

Myrrh – All Is Well

Don't miss the gift!

All Is Well – beautiful words, but for Myrrh, All Is Well has become a theme for their lives. Having been in full-time ministry for over twenty years, Myrrh has seen more of their share of the Christian music industry. With a ministry that spans two decades and six continents, Myrrh's musical style is as widespread as the number of places they have traveled. But on December 7th, 1999 a head on collision nearly ended the music of this talented family of musicians. Group members Bill and Heather Murk were traveling on a country road, west of Chicago, and were hit head-on by a speeding semi-truck. (for more about this please look for Myrrh's album Closer or "Closer – The Radio Special")

"The one thing that got us through was knowing that God was in complete control – no matter what things looked like," the group members are quick to say. "We had just begun performing the song All Is Well when the accident happened," they explain. "Then in August, 2000 we realized we needed to release an album building on the theme of the song."

That CD mushroomed into a sixteen-song musical extravaganza. With everything from jazz, to adult contemporary, to the sacred classics, the diversity on this project is astounding. Myrrh's fresh approach breaks the stereotype surrounding Christmas songs, by "spicing up" many old favorites and adding some new ones. Between the vocal blend and violin artistry, this project offers something for everyone.

"The bottom line is that all is well with us because we have found peace, joy, and contentment as we put our focus on the problem solver, instead of the problems around us. Everything in our lives, especially during the holidays, is grabbing for our attention. And with that, anxiety, stress and depression can mount. Believing in God's sovereignty enables us to view life differently, because no matter what happens around us... All Is Well," Myrrh
